

KOLCHAK'S FORCES QUIT EKATERINBURG

Most Important City Held by
All Russians Abandoned,
Says Writer.

FIRST NEWS OF RETREAT Lack of Saddles for Cavalry Horses Forces Surrender of the City.

The subsequent dispatch to the first intimation that the forces of the Omsk Government intended evacuating Ekaterinburg, the most important town held by them in European Russia, Ekaterinburg is a great railway junction, situated 200 miles southeast of Perm, which was abandoned June 30. The military consequences, however, are likely to be less serious than the moral effect of the projected retreat, for Ekaterinburg was the first large town west of the Ural captured by Admiral Kolchak's army and only two months ago he was preparing to move his capital thither from Omsk.

EKATERINBURG, July 11 (delayed).—Staff training will leave here tomorrow. A picked force of all arms, including many officers and men who received British training, will hold the city and the railway till the last moment and then will combine with the other fresh units to guard the line of communication while the three legions rest, refit and reorganize in the rear. It means a fresh start on an entirely new system and another year of fighting before we reach Moscow. It means the Allies must prepare immediately to send all requisites for a winter campaign, principally warm clothing.

Reports from the front indicate the absence of any strong pressure. The Reds have diverted three divisions southward, intent on breaking up the advance of the Ural and Orenburg Cossacks toward Gen. Denikin, and evidently planning to create fresh trouble on the Indian border. All information from Sovietdom points to a strengthening of German influence.

GERMANS ARE BUSY.

The most serious danger in Russia is that of reverting to the Germans unless the Allies are able to demonstrate their ability to help the national elements assert their independence. This morning I rode through the city for the first time. The streets were full of soldiers and the spies and eavesdroppers were everywhere. One cannot surrender Ekaterinburg without a pang, but our future depends upon this sacrifice.

"The Reds are so weak, why not rout them with cavalry?" I asked.

"Because we have no saddles, because it was decided by amateur soldiers the cavalry was useless, because politicians associated the cavalry with reaction."

Such was the heartbreaking answer to my question.

We have horses and men and if we only had saddles we might perhaps save Ekaterinburg. Nobody views the arrival of the Bolsheviks here except with dread and only the poorest and the clergy are remaining, but the people who are most terror-stricken are those of the Socialist Revolutionary party which nearest approximates to the followers of Lenin.

The politicians who have run the army and the country into the present disaster based the airy edifice of Russian democracy almost entirely upon the party, it is worth while to consider the causes that inspire panic in them to an extent of almost complete effacement.

The Bolsheviks repeatedly demonstrated their contemptuous superiority over the socialist revolutionaries, but never till now has the supremacy of the Reds been demonstrated in such a crushing manner, leaving no room for political horizon for the artificial programmes of the so-called Russian democracy.

REDS IN NEW GUIN.

The Reds reappear in an entirely new guise. They claim to have vanquished the bourgeoisie and are now using it to consolidate the Soviet regime. Landlord farmers and the mill owners and managers have been placed in charge of their former property, working it for the benefit of the commissaries. The peasants and workmen of the factories are subjected to the severest discipline by the Bolshevik executive.

Never were the poor so ground down. The Red armies, composed entirely of Russian peasants and workers are mobilized compulsorily and ruled by iron discipline at the hands of the commissaries. The organization perfectly adapted to the submissive character of the people.

The utter weakness and ineptitude of the Russians for the Socialist revolutionary doctrine of democracy. All the more striking in view of facts which are regarded by the most competent observers in the Soviet, namely, that the great bulk of the people has reverted to religion, that the Bolsheviks refrain from interfering with the church and that they are distinctly monarchistic and anti-Semite. Recent experience has shown that the Bolsheviks are a kind of Janissary force. When the Reds were here last their organization was rudimentary, their forces untrained and their organization perfectly adapted to the submissive character of the people.

87 DEAD IN CHILE STORM.

15 Vessels Sunk, $70,000,000 Property Damaged by Hurricane.

VALPARAISO, Chile, July 15.—Eighty-seven persons are known to have been drowned and the loss of life may have been much greater in a hurricane which swept this port Saturday and Sunday. Fifteen vessels of various sizes were sunk and about 100 lighters and other small craft were destroyed. The property loss is estimated at $70,000,000.

Among the steamships lost were the Gotha, 6,633 tons; the Don Carlos, 1,114 tons; Tora, 10 tons; tug Cordillera, 107 tons; the old battleship Lima, 2,231 tons; and the Lika. The German steamship Sala, which was washed ashore and pounded to pieces, lost ten of its crew.

Seven other vessels, including the steamer Tania, of 8,600 tons, were reported lost in dispatches received Saturday and Monday.

RHINE STATE PLAN ACCEPTED.

Germany Wants New Body Attached to Tension Empire.

BERLIN, July 15.—According to the Cologne Volkszeitung, a copy of which has been received here, a rumor is in circulation in the Rhineland provinces that the central Government of Germany is no longer opposed to creation of an independent Rhineland state, provided this state remains attached to the German Empire.

SENATORS DEMAND NEW DAYLIGHT VETO

Declare House Acted Half-Heartedly on Veto.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Repeal of the daylight saving law, believed settled by the House yesterday in sustaining the President's veto of repeal legislation, was reopened today at a conference between leaders of the Senate and House Agriculture Committees.

Senators insisted on another vote by the House on the rider to the agricultural bill to repeal the daylight saving act. The question will be considered tomorrow by the full House Agriculture Committee.

The House Agriculture Committee, members will probably meet to the House precisely the same bill that was rejected by the President. The Rules Committee then would be asked to prepare a resolution making the rider in order.

Senate leaders at their conference today with Chairman Hagen of the House committee declared that the effort on the floor yesterday to pass the bill over the veto was half-hearted and that those in charge of the measure had failed to point out the insistent demand from farmers for elimination of the summer time schedule. Mr. Hagen said later he did not think that chance there might be to repeal the bill, but that the effort would be made.

In the event that they fail to repeal the daylight saving law House committee members say they would introduce a bill making it operative five instead of seven months a year in the hope that this plan might meet the approval of the President. Should another vote not be obtained in the Senate Agriculture Committee said to be ready to hold up the agricultural bill indefinitely and open extensive hearings on the daylight measure.

MISS MARBURY DECORATED.

Receives Belgian Medal in Recognition of War Services.

PARIS, July 15.—Elizabeth Marbury of New York, has been decorated with the Medal of Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, "in recognition of services she has rendered to Belgium since 1914."

This announcement was made today by Emile de Cartier, Belgian Minister to the United States.

Miss Marbury sailed for France on June 25 as the only woman representative of the Knights of Columbus overseas. She went first to visit her residence at Versailles, and then to tour the camps and recreation centers of the American troops. She has been active in war relief work throughout the war in the American Fund for French Wounded, from which she later resigned, and in the National Catholic War Council. She has many other interests in women's civic and political activities.

In conjunction with her present mission to France she is to address several French societies on economic and political conditions in this country. This city is at 123 East Fifty-fifth street.

BERLIN TRAIN STRIKE ENDS.

Agitation Starts for General Farm Strike Before Harvest.

BERLIN, July 15.—The strike of employees of the tramways ended today after having lasted a fortnight. Following a vote by the strikers Monday night, in which 10,613 ballots to 6,546 were cast in favor of a continuation of the strike, four mass meetings were held, and the people who are most terror-stricken are those of the Socialist Revolutionary party which nearest approximates to the followers of Lenin.

The politicians who have run the army and the country into the present disaster based the airy edifice of Russian democracy almost entirely upon the party, it is worth while to consider the causes that inspire panic in them to an extent of almost complete effacement.

ASK PRESIDENT TO DECIDE.

American Mission Refers Blockade Question to Him.

PARIS, July 15.—The American mission has referred the question of the Russian blockade to President Wilson. Some of the Allies, including the French, want all ships entering the Gulf of Finland to be held up now. The Americans take the position that this would constitute a real blockade of Russia, which they have opposed so far, contending that no nation is at war with Russia.

It is denied that a blockade in the Black Sea is being enforced, so the question largely comes down to the Gulf of Finland, through which Petrograd is supplied.

GONZALES INQUIRY BEGUN.

Habits of Appointed Envoy to Peru Investigated.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The case of William H. Gonzales, of South Carolina, appointed to be Ambassador to Peru, was taken up by the special subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today. Hearings on the fitness of the nominee will continue for several days. Protest against the nomination of Mr. Gonzales, who is now Minister to Cuba, have been lodged with the committee. They involve the character and habits of Mr. Gonzales.

At today's session, which was confidential in character, the two witnesses examined were Ruford Bingham, First Secretary of the Legation in Havana, and Commander Cusachs, the American naval attaché there. Details of the testimony were withheld, but the witnesses were known to have been sworn to inform the committee as to the truth of certain stories emanating from Havana which the particularly close scrutiny of the record of the Minister has seemed to the Senators to necessitate.

MORAN PUNCTURES MAYOR'S EXCUSE

Tells Hyman He Misstates
Facts Regarding Curb
Brokers Ordinance.

AMENDMENT IS MARKED

Aldermen May Hold Special Meeting to Override
the Veto.

In a letter to Mayor Hyman regarding the veto of the curb brokers ordinance, President Moran of the Board of Aldermen last night just fell short of using the "shorter and uglier word."

It was evident that the president was out of all patience after receiving from the Mayor a communication attempting to justify his mistake in not knowing that the ordinance had been amended and sticking to his attitude of opposition by giving a grand reason, one that Mr. Moran metaphorically shot full of holes.

"I must again say," President Moran opens up, "that your recent statement (referring to the veto message) badly misstates the facts—and this too after the Mayor had framed up a perfect alibi, as well as a most excellent set of reasons for not approving the ordinance."

May Be Special Meeting.
It is probable that a special meeting of the Board will be called to pass the ordinance over the Mayor's veto, although Mr. Moran does not mention this.

Seeking to excuse himself for giving as his main reason for his veto, when he sent his message to the Board of Aldermen that it did not cover all the streets in the city, the Mayor said that he had printed and submitted to him a "referred to the Curb Market at Broad street, between Exchange place and the City Hall."

"This ordinance, no doubt, had been hastily amended," the Mayor added, "as evidenced by the typewritten memoranda passed on the table of the board, one of which was attached to the printed ordinance, with no memorandum on the printed ordinance referring to any amendment."

The Mayor's excuse was thrown straight from the shoulder retort of the Aldermanic President, who declared that the original ordinance and its amendment were typewritten together and on the front cover in red ink was the statement that the ordinance had been amended as "within noted."

The Mayor evidently had thrown overboard the second reason given by him in his veto message, which was that the ordinance would give the Curb Market Association an exclusive privilege. He did not mention it in his letter to President Moran yesterday. But in the meantime he had thought up this further reason for opposition:

"The ordinance is not a proper one as it contains no qualifications for curb brokers or persons dealing in stocks, bonds, notes or securities with the public. It is not a license to do business for $500. This ordinance, if approved, would allow the most disreputable brokers on the curb market, as such brokers usually have the most to obtain a license from the city of New York on the payment of $500 to do business on the curb market."

This would enable them to advertise the fact that they are duly licensed by the city of New York to do business in the purchase, sale or exchange of stocks, bonds, notes or securities, and to the general public the impression that their nefarious transactions had the stamp of approval of the city of New York and the public, relying on the fact that the city license such men, would be flooded out of millions of dollars."

To this President Moran replied that, granted there were dishonest brokers operating on the curb, the killing of the ordinance would permit them to continue unmolested. Under a license system the License Commission would have the duty and power to weed out such brokers by the simple process of refusing to grant them a license.

CITY STAY IN GAS CASE IS SURPRISE

Consolidated's Attorney to Fight Decision on Burr's
Right to Intervene.

HIGHEST COURT ARBITER

Hearing Before Master Held
Up Indefinitely if Stay Is Not Vanted.

The question of the right of the city of New York to intervene in a suit brought by the Consolidated Gas Company to declare the 80 cent gas law void is to be decided by the United States Supreme Court, under a stay granted yesterday by Judge Martin T. Manton of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

The case was to have been heard yesterday before A. S. Gilbert, the special master appointed by Judge Julius M. Mayer, when John P. O'Brien, Assistant Corporation Counsel, announced that a stay had been obtained.

This move took the attorneys for the gas company by surprise and produced a flurry in the court room. Finally former Judge William L. Ransom of Whitman, who had been appointed to fill the place of the late Judge Manton, held the case over until this point can be settled in the highest court.

Mr. Burr has a record for opposing the Consolidated Gas Company, which makes him especially feared in the present action. In 1906 he forced the company to return more than $17,000,000 to the people in rebates, which was the difference between the 80 cent rate and the $1 rate which the company put into effect for a short time.

The company is basing its present suit to gain an increase of rates on a decision of the United States Supreme Court in 1909 which ruled against the company, but denied the bill of complaint without prejudice to permit the institution of another suit if after actual experience it was found that the 80 cent rate was unreasonable.

In the twelve years that have elapsed the gas company claims it has found profits at a constant ebb, until now it finds the 80 cent rate both confiscatory and unconstitutional.

MOVE TO BLOCK BELA KUN.

Alles Warn Against Purchase of Securities.

PARIS, July 15.—The International Council today asked all nations to oppose the sale in their countries of the securities held in Hungary and which the Hungarian Soviet Government has ordered the banks to deliver. It was stated that the delivery of these securities was being made.

The Council directed the attention of allied and neutral governments, as well as Germany and Austria, to the danger that might follow the sale of these securities for propaganda. The seizure of the securities was declared to be illegal confiscation.

The Council of Five, it was stated in a Paris dispatch on July 9, was considering sending a note to Bela Kun, head of the Hungarian Soviet Government, disapproving his plan to sell securities held in Hungary and also a note to all nations advising that these securities be not purchased.
